Young Cyclists have Their Christmas Wishes Granted by HSBC

Young cyclists at the Jersey Cycling Association Youth Academy (JCAYA) are getting a head start in 2019 after receiving significant funding from their official sponsor HSBC.

At a special presentation last week the Bank surprised the Association by presenting a cheque for £10,725, enabling them to realise plans to further improve the clubhouse facilities for young riders.

In September the JCAYA officially opened their new clubhouse at Les Quennevais cycle track where cyclists can relax, socialise with their friends and coaches, and have somewhere warm and dry to recuperate from training.

Commenting on the donation, Ashley Hillier, JCAYA Chairman said:

“We were absolutely taken by surprise with HSBC’s gift. The Bank’s sponsorship of the club is so important to us, especially to the future the aspirations of all our young members. We are very much looking forward to starting the new year in the knowledge that we’re off to a flying start and that the additional club facilities we can now provide will really help our members.”

Also commenting on the gift, Chantal Le Goff, Head of Sustainability, HSBC Channel Islands and Isle of Man said:

“As the club’s official sponsor, we feel so privileged to be able to help them achieve their goals, and it was lovely to surprise them at this festive time of year. The JCAYA plays such a key role in helping young cyclists engage in physical activity, live a healthy lifestyle and reach their potential in the sport. We know this will make a difference to the JCAYA and look forward to seeing their members thrive in 2019.”
